Bitoseom Island
Located in Seopomyeon, Bitoseom Island was connected to the mainland with the installation of the Bitogyo Bridge in 1992 but the island has managed to hold onto its mystery nonetheless. The co-existence of the sea and the tideland, as well as the legend of the tortoises native to Bitoseom Island, makes the island all the more intriguing. The road lined with cherry blossoms every spring makes it one of the most beautiful courses for a drive. The intricate and detailed landscape of a fishing village and the amazing sunset that can be seen from practically anywhere on the island create a romantic atmosphere.

Bitoseom Tideland

Bito Ocean Fishing Park
The small island located in Seopomyeon, Bitori is called Byeolhakdo Island. Named after its shape, which is reminiscent of a stork taking off, the island has a pedestrian bridge that connects it to the mainland, a small bridge for fishing, a seaside pension in the shape of a dome and play grounds for children. Fish and underwater greenery have been put in the water to allow for fishing throughout the year.

Bito National Leisure Campground
Bito National Leisure Campground offers a break away from the busy and crowded urban life and polluted air, where you can heal yourself amidst nature and the soft sea breeze. The nature-friendly campground features 28 spots for regular campers, 15 glamping buildings and three buildings for story houses.

Sight 6 Dasolsa Temple in Bongmyeongsan Mountain

▲ Dasolsa Temple in Bongmyeongsan Mountain
With an over 1500 year-long history and located along the hills of Bongmyeongsan Mountain in Yongsanri, Gopyeongmyeon, the Temple offers many historic relics of value to appreciate and take yourself back to times of the past. Ansimryo at Dasolsa Temple is a meaningful place where Yongun Han wrote the draft of the Declaration of Korean Independence, and is also home to the novel Deungsinbul by Dongri Kim.

▲ Dasolsa Boanam Seokgul(Grotto)
Boanam was established in 1947, but the rock cave is said to have been used as a meditation training ground by monks during the late Goryeo period. The rock cave takes on the form of a staircase made of natural rocks and has a 1.8m high seated stone Buddha and a statue of the sixteen disciples of Buddha made of natural rock.

▲ Saecheon Intangible Cultural Heritage Education Center
Saecheon Intangible Cultural Heritage Education Center was established to pass down and promote intangible Cultural Heritage No. 11-1, Jinju Samcheonpo Nongak Jinju and No. 73, Gasan Ogwangdae Mask Dance. The center also gives regular performances and hosts regional festivities.

▲ Jomyeonggunchong(Cemetery of Joseon-Ming Allied Forces)
The Cemetery of Joseon-Ming Allied Forces is located slightly away from Seonjiliseong Fortress. It is the resting place of the Joseon-Ming soldiers who died while fighting the Japanese forces that had taken Seonjiliseong Fortress hostage during the war in 1597, the 30th year of King Seonjo's reign. There was a memorial plaque about 1m high marked as a tower erected for the repose of Tang Dynasty soldiers' soul, but this disappeared after Korean liberation. The cemetery itself, however, has been well preserved for approximately 400 years.

Sight 4 Seonjiliseong Fortress Cherry Blossoms

Seonjiliseong Fortress
Located in Seonjil, Yonghyeonmyeon, the Fortress was built by the Japanese forces during the war between Korea and Japan that broke out in 1592. It is also known as the battle ground where General Sun-Sin Yi fought off the Japanese. At present, there is a roughly 1km long remnant of the fortress built with soil. Although the areas made of rocks have crumbled, the site has mostly maintained its original scale. The cherry blossom tunnel and cherry blossom trees that have been lining the path to the Fortress for over a hundred years are great attractions for tourists every spring.

Sight 2 Siran Sunset Point

◀ Siran Coastal Road
The sunset viewed from the Siran Coastal Road is well known for its beauty, much so that it has drawn many professional photographers from across the nation. The road has also been ranked among the nine best spots in Korea to see a beautiful sunset, as the combination of the view of the sea seen from the coast and the mountains create one as beautiful as a painting. The warm sun rays envelope the view of the sea during sunset to create a fantastic vista with the coastal road.

▲ Daebangjin Gulhang(Port)
The manmade port that can only be seen in Saecheon, Daebangjin Port was designated as Cultural Property No.93 of Gyeongsangnam-do. Legend has it that this port is where General Sun-Sin Yi hid his Turtle Ship during the war with Japan and that he filled the port with fresh water to ensure that no oysters would attach themselves onto the fighting ship. There is a statue of General Yi on top of the small hill at the port.

▲ Sinsudo Island
Sinsudo Island in Saecheon is the biggest island of the six inhabited islands in Saecheon and was ranked among the 10 best islands in Korea by the Ministry of Interior and Safety in June, 2010. The island is also called 'Fifty-two island' for the 52 rocks and peaks that surround it, and 'dragon head island' because its shape, with Waryongsan Mountain rising from under water, is evocative of the head of a dragon.

Sight 5 Royal Azaleas of Waryongsan Mountain

Waryongsan Mountain
Waryongsan Mountain is 801.4m high and of significant scale. When you reach Minjaebong Peak, the main peak of the mountain, you can see a sweeping view of Hallyeohaesang National Park. It is also a great venue for paragliding, taking off from the Yongdu site of Waryongsan Mountain and being swept up by the winds from the nearby sea of Saecheon.

Cheongneol Park
Cheongneol Park is often referred to as 'Windmill Park' due to its red windmill, which has now become a landmark. With its very European feel, the park is located in Seodong, allowing visitors to take in the view of Saecheon and the bridge connecting the island to the mainland while feeling the sea breeze coming from the seaway.

▲ Saecheon High-Tech Aerospace Science Museum
Located in Sanammyeon, Saecheon, Saecheon High-Tech Aerospace Science Museum is a cultural space that promotes dreams, imagination, and knowledge-building through a variety of experiences related to aerospace. The exhibition halls on the first and second floors are organized around the three themes of aeronautical experience, space exploration, and aerospace. The 4D special viewing room and VR features offer a unique first-hand experience to visitors.

▲ Aerospace Museum
Designed to be a place where visitors can see and learn more about aircraft, the Museum is quite popular as a venue for field trips. A light aircraft designed and manufactured entirely with home-grown technologies is also exhibited in the space outdoors.

Sight 7 Saecheonupseong Walled Town Myeongwol

▲ Saecheonupseong Walled Town
A wall build of rocks and soil, the remainder of Saecheonupseong stretches along approximately 1.5km. It is said that it was built by Inson Shin following the king's orders in 1442 in the 24th year of King Sejong's reign. It also holds significance as a symbolic place that was recovered by the allied forces of Joseon and Ming from the Japanese. A memorial tower was installed on August 15, 1969 in Suyang Park within the walled town, to commemorate the spirit of the independence fighters and their sacrifice during the March 1 Independence Movement.

▲ Changseon Samcheonpodaegyo Bridge
Changseon Samcheonpodaegyo Bridge connects Daebang in Saecheon-Si and Changseon in Namhae-Gun and was the first ever bridge in Korea to connect between islands. The beauty of Hallyeohaesang National Park shines during the daytime, while the nightscape is known to be one of the landmarks of Saecheon-Si as noted in 'The 100 Most Beautiful Roads in Korea' and 'The Best 100 Spots for Sightseeing in the Night'.

◀ Saecheon Ocean Cable Car
Starting from Daebang station, crossing the sea, wrapping around Choyang station (on an island), and traveling through Gaksan station (in the mountains), this cable car makes its loop to return to Daebang station. It is the first cable car in Korea to go along a route that connects the mountains with the sea and an island. Operating along a stretch of 2.43km at a maximum speed of 6m per second, the cable car offers a great opportunity to take in the beautiful view of Changseon Samcheonpodaegyo Bridge along with a view of the sea and the small islands dotting the coast of the South Sea, a scene reminiscent of a water color painting.

▲ Gaksansanseong Fortress
Said to have been built in the six year of the reign of King Muwang (in A.D. 605), the 30th king of Baekje, the Fortress is made of rocks and extends 242m, covering 80% of the ridges of Gaksan Mountain.

▲ Gaksan Bongsudae(Beacon)

Park Jaesam Library Museum
The museum offers a glimpse into the poetry of Jaesam Park, known as one of the most lyrical poets in Korea. The museum highlights his bibliography, evaluations given by literary critics, his motivation for becoming a poet, his personality, and even personal relationships to deliver a more human portrait of the poet.

◀ Nosan Park
Located at the end of the southern ridge of the mountain in Dongseo-gu-dong, which is at the heart of Samcheonpo Port, the Park has an octagonal observatory that offers a sweeping view of Waryongsan Mountain, Gaksan Mountain, Saecheonupseong Port, and the islands of various sizes around Hallyeosu-do. The nearby Park Jaesam Library Museum and Hoyojeon host numerous cultural events.

▲ Namildae Beach
Namildae Beach was named by Chiwon Choi, an academic during the late Shilla Period, for the clear and blue sea, the silver toned sand, and the landscape that envelopes the area like a folding screen. The small size of the beach adds a unique charm and the gentle waves are a favorite of families.

▲ Kokkiribawi Rock
Located towards the eastern edge of Namildae Beach, Kokkiribawi Rock is named due to its shape that is reminiscent of an elephant drinking water from its nose. The shape is said to be the result of erosion caused by the waves and creates a harmonious view with the seacoast, making it one of the 'eight most beautiful scenes in Saecheon'.

Jinneol Jeonmangdae(Observatory)
The view from Jinneol Observatory is one that sweeps across Kokkiribawi Rock on Namildae Beach to the boats that cross Hallyeosu-do. It is a beautiful scene that is reminiscent of those often portrayed in East Asian paintings. Nearby are environmentally-friendly pedestrian pathways that have special pavement to massage the feet thanks to their pressure point features, as well as a sports facility. The pathway is also a favorite among couples due to the romantic atmosphere created by the view and the sea breeze.

Samcheonpo Yonggung Fish Market
A fish market with over 50 years of history, Samcheonpo Yonggung Fish Market offers a rare chance for visitors to come in contact with live fish and shellfish as well as dried seafood. The raw fish center within the market features sashimi dishes at an affordable price that you can enjoy while taking in the view.
